Textbook Survey

In September of 2015, the Federation of State Boards of Physical Therapy (FSBPT) sent a survey to all accredited physical therapist (PT) and physical therapist assistant (PTA) education programs in the United States. This survey requested information about the textbooks currently used by the programs in the education of physical therapists and physical therapist assistants. The purpose of the survey was to ensure that the reference library maintained by FSBPT, which is used in the development of the National Physical Therapy Examination (NPTE), reflects textbooks currently in use in PT and PTA education programs.

The number of textbooks used in a given program is not a reflection of the quality of the program. Please note that the programs that responded to the survey included full lists of textbooks that students are asked to purchase; however, not all of those textbooks are necessarily required for the program. Additionally, the reported textbooks may reflect multiple classes in a program, not all of which may be required to complete a degree.

The textbook titles reported are the most current editions available. This approach was used because some PT and PTA programs reported using older editions or textbooks rereleased with an electronic version of a printed book. Collapsing frequencies across different versions of the same textbook succinctly identifies which titles are being used most frequently by the programs.

There are two types of education requirements that an individual must complete prior to beginning physical therapy coursework. Of the responding PT programs, 19 institutions allow individuals to begin a PT program after the individual completes 3 years of undergraduate courses, and 102 of the responding institutions require individuals to obtain a Bachelors degree before beginning a PT program. The education requirements for the physical therapy assistant programs are somewhat different. Responses showed that 130 PTA programs allow students to begin PTA coursework immediately upon admission to the program. Sixteen programs allow students to begin PTA coursework after completing 0.5 years of general education courses. Sixty-three programs allow students to begin PTA coursework after completing 1 year of general education courses.

Table 1 summarizes the institution type of the responding programs. Institution type is defined as Private, Not for Profit; Private, for Profit; or Public. Of the responding programs, there were 60 PT and 26 PTA Private, Not for Profit programs; 4 PT and 33 PTA Private, for Profit programs; and 57 PT and 150 PTA Public programs.

Institution Type	Program Type
	PT	PTA
Private, not for profit	60	26
Private, for profit	4	33
Public	57	150

Table 2 summarizes the number of PT and PTA programs that responded to the survey, along with the mean, median, and mode of the number of reported textbooks. A total of 121 PT programs (52.84%) and 209 PTA programs (60.06%) responded to the request for textbook data. On average, 33 textbooks were used in PT programs and 16 textbooks were used in PTA programs. The median number of textbooks used in PT programs is 31. The median number of textbooks used in PTA programs is 16. The most frequent number of textbooks reported for PT programs is 27, and the most frequent number of textbooks reported for PTA programs is 13.

Appendices

The appendices include full textbook information (title, author(s), copyright year, edition number, and publisher) along with the frequencies of the textbooks that were reported. Appendices A through E are sorted by level of education required prior to beginning physical therapy coursework, and Appendices F through K are sorted by type of institution. Appendix L includes the full list of textbooks that were reported. As in the body of the report, the textbook titles listed in the appendices represent the most current edition of each textbook currently available. This approach was used because some PT and PTA programs reported using older editions or textbooks rereleased with eBooks. Collapsing frequencies across different versions of the same textbook succinctly identifies which titles are being used most frequently by the programs.
