Members and Chair – Exam Development Committee (PT & PTA)

Established by: Bylaws

Committee Summary:

The purpose of the NPTE Exam Development Committee is to ensure the reliability and validity of the NPTE by applying PT expertise to reviewing the content of test items and forms.

This committee is responsible for performing oversight of the item bank review process and for reviewing the forms of the National Physical Therapy Examination. Oversight activities of the item bank review process involve a combination of item review and revision. The committee reviews each item, verifying one correct key (best answer) and that the distractors are incorrect, and ensures that the items are current, relevant to the content outline, and entry-level. The committee ensures that items are assigned to content categories appropriately and verifies other item-related information, such as the cognitive level, the rating scales (e.g., the appropriateness for entry-level practice, likelihood that a therapist not having this skill or knowledge could cause a patient physical or mental harm, the importance of knowledge of the item for providing effective treatment at the entry-level), and the rationale and reference supporting the key and each distractor. These activities are performed for new items yet to be approved into the FSBPT item bank and items in the item bank that have been flagged because of perceived flaws (e.g., content or statistical).

The committee also does a final review of each scored and pretest item on draft test forms provided by FSBPT staff, verifying that each item reflects current practice, is relevant to the content outline, and is entry-level. Committee members also verify that items do not overlap with other items on the examination and do not give answers or substantial hints to other items within a section of the examination. The committee selects replacement items for any operational or pre-test item it deems not appropriate for the examination.

Committee Functions:

- A. Reviews all new items submitted by item writer coordinators.
- B. Revises (where necessary) new items being considered for the item bank.
- C. Updates rationales and references for any items revised during the review process.
- D. Approves new items into the item bank.
- E. Identifies and documents flaws in new items failing to be approved to the item bank.
- F. May review/revise items flagged during other phases of the item development process and those flagged for review on the basis of statistics during pretesting.
- G. Approves revised items into the item bank after verifying that references and rationales for the revised items have been updated.
- H. Reviews draft forms of the examination.
- I. Approves all items that go onto an examination.
- J. Promotes FSBPT as an organization working together to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the public through the National Physical Therapy Examinations.
- K. Carries out other duties as necessary to fulfill the committee purpose as defined by the FSBPT Board of Directors.

Committee Make-up:

- A. EDC-PT and EDC-PTA each consists of at least thirteen members.
- B. There are four chairs that lead EDC-PT and four chairs that lead EDC-PTA. At least one chair attends each EDC meeting. If additional leadership is needed, an experienced EDC member with at least one year of experience can help lead a meeting in lieu of the named chair.
